

American Society for Horticultural Science

Established in 1903, the American Society for Horticultural Science is recognized around the world as one of the most respected and influential professional societies for horticultural scientists. ASHS is committed to promoting and encouraging national and international interest in scientific research and education in all branches of horticulture.

Comprised of thousands of members worldwide, ASHS represents a broad cross-section of the horticultural community - scientists, educators, students, landscape and turf managers, government, extension agents and industry professionals. ASHS members focus on practices and problems in horticulture: breeding, propagation, production and management, harvesting, handling and storage, processing, marketing and use of horticultural plants and products.

ASHS STUDENT MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

- Join specialized Professional Interest Groups and network with members who share your interests
- Access Webinars presented by experts in their field of horticulture
- Bi-monthly ASHS E-News
- 7 day early access to job postings
- Reduced registration fees for ASHS Annual Conference
- Apply for Travel Grant to attend the annual ASHS Conference featuring:
  - Career Planning Seminar and Career Fair
  - Resume Reviews and Career Center
  - Oral and Poster Competitions with cash prizes
  - Feedback on poster and oral presentations
  - Opportunities to meet with professionals and academics in your field
  - Attend oral and poster sessions, workshops, keynotes and special sessions

Become a Member Today!

703-836-4606 www.ashs.org