ABOUT PLANTAE

Plantae was developed to address the need for a community and knowledge foundation for the global plant science community. It is an award-winning, crowdsourced initiative powered by the American Society of Plant Biologists (ASPB) and represents ASPB's ongoing commitment to the plant science community. The site features:

- Original articles, researched and written by plant scientists from around the world appointed as Plantae Fellows in categories that include research insights, education, community, and career.
- Monthly webinars, prepared and hosted by Plantae Fellows featuring expert guest speakers from the plant science community
- Plantae Networks, unique online special-interest communities and discussion boards for plant scientists

BENEFITS

THE IDEAL AUDIENCE

- Appear on the only global platform by plant scientists, for plant scientists
- Plantae is relevant for plant scientists across all career stages in academia, industry, and government positions
- Plantae is home to the Global Plant Science Calendar and the Plantae Jobs Center, two key destinations in the online plant science community
- Plantae Networks are networking hubs for groups including Primarily Undergraduate Institution Section, Early Career Plant Scientists Section, African Researchers Network, Women in Plant Biology, Synthetic Biology, LGBTQ+ PlantSci, and more!

OPTIONS

SPONSORED CONTENT

- Sponsor an article: Generate an article or ASPB will generate content for you. Your sponsorship appears at the top of the article.
- Sponsor a webinar: Sponsor an already planned webinar or create your own to be hosted as part of the Plantae Presents series. Sponsors of already-planned webinars are featured through marketing and have a 2-minute highlight during the webinar. Sponsors presenting their own webinar benefit from a full marketing push and ASPB staff support. All webinar sponsors receive a list of registrants.
- Sponsor an author: Invest in Plantae content by sponsoring a Plantae Fellow. Your sponsorship appears in the author bio and on every piece they write.
